Jiffy Organic

Organic farming

Today, consumers demand knowledge of where their food is coming from, how it is produced, if it is safe to eat and, often, prefer it to be organic. Organic labelled food needs to be produced under local government organic protocol. To accommodate the organic growers, Jiffy offers a product line certified to be used for organic propagation of young plants.

EU Organic Certificate

The Jiffy coir products produced in Sri Lanka, Jiffy O'Growblock and Jiffy-O'7C coir, have been approved for use by organic growers in the EU through 'EU Organic', an input approval organization for organic production in the European Union.

OMRI Listed

OMRI is a voluntary program that offers manufacturers an independent and confidential review of their products to assure compliance with the organic standards. More than just a look at the label, an OMRI review includes ingredient verification and evaluation of the manufacturing process to ensure that OMRI Listed products are made without prohibited substances. As a result, farmers and producers recognize and rely on OMRI and the OMRI seal to help protect the integrity of their organic systems. Many of Jiffy's products can be found on the OMRI list; Substrates, Jiffypots, Jiffy-O'7C and O'Growblocks and therefore are well suited for growers growing organic crops.
